Places worth visiting while in the Drakensberg

As beautiful as the Drakensberg is, there are of course some places that are really special and stick out further than the rest. The mountains are what bring many of our guests to the Berg. People want to get as close as they can to these fantastic sculptures of God. The only way that you can reach closeness to these mountains and summits is by foot on hikes, and in some cases even by horse. The hikes range from 6 hours to 3 days summit tours which can be arranged by a variety of companies as well as challenged by one self.

Realising the risks involved when climbing to these peaks, always try to get others involved in these tours from a safety point of view.

Below is a list of summits which can be reached by foot:

1. The Amphitheatre
2. Mnweni
3. Cathedral Peak
4. Monks Cowl / Nkosana
5. Injasuthi
6. Giants Castle
7. Mkhomazi
8. Mzimkhulu

The detail of these hikes can be checked up and references retrieved from the Leisure Desk with the 'Best Walks of the Drakensberg' book.

The road to the Central Berg is a twisty path filled with mielie farms and tribal areas. Reaching Bergville you will find the bare necessities for your holiday and the same for Winterton. So the bigger shopper would have to travel to Harrismith (± 60 km) or Ladysmith (± 100 km).

Below is a list of excursion products we at Alpine Heath would recommend:

1. All Out Adventure (Outdoor Adventure Sports)
2. Amphitheatre Backpackers (Avid Hikers and Abseiling)
3. Aperture Café an HD Honey Product (Shopping / Site Tours)
4. Ardmore Ceramic Studio (Shopping / Site Tours)
5. Bell Park Dam (Mountain Biking / Hikes / Water Sports)
6. Bergville (Shopping / Information Centre)
7. Bingelela Quad Biking (Out Door Adventure Sport)
8. Cathedral Peak Country Club (Average Golfer)
9. Cathedral Peak Hotel (Helicopter Tours)
10. Champagne Sports Golf Resort (Avid Golfer)

Hiking Trails

YELLOWWOOD FOREST TRAIL (Yellow Leopard Print)

This is the longest of the trails on offer at Alpine Heath. Approximately 4.7 km's, the Yellowwood has a steep gradient meandering through the thatch grass plains and climbing through a forest of magnificent indigenous trees. The trail has a few steep climbs until you reach the summit of the small waterfall. It is not recommended for small children or those with a fear of heights. The trail continues down the steep slopes and back through thatch grassland until rejoining at the starting point.

Starting point: From the Village Square, walk up the tar road (parking area) all the way to the 4-way intersection. At the intersection, turn right and continue onto the 2-track cement road. Continue with the cement track until you reach a split in the road. Ignore the dirt road to the left and continue right with the track until you see the yellow arrow and the start of the trail. The arrow is placed approximately 30 metres before the river. Once on the trail, take the trail to the left as the trail to the right is the return trail. Follow the Yellow Prints and enjoy.

ALPINE CASCADES (Blue Footprints)

The most popular trail at Alpine Heath is the Alpine Cascades. Starting at Chalet 22, you will find the trail, which crosses a scenic stream. Following the blue footprints, you will pass the return path (on your left) and you will continue on the right hand side of the hill following the path of the river. Continue with the path until you come across a gate. Go through the gate (please close once you are through) and continue with the path that leads down the hill to the left. You will cross another beautiful stream and continue along an open grassland towards the Cascades waterfall. Take a moment to sit and relax at the splendour of the Falls. Try and identify the Outinequa Yellowwood, South Africa's National Tree. Looking across the pool at the base of the Falls, you will see the blue footprints and the continuation of the path. The path winds its way through a valley between two hills before crossing a slightly trickier stream. It's uphill from here with a steep climb of the mountain to your left. The path has erosion tiers, which do help with the climb. Once at the summit, you will enjoy a magnificent view of Alpine Heath at its best. The trail continues down the right hand side of the mountain with a tricky downhill path that will eventually get you back to where you started. An energetic Trail for the whole family! ±2km.

ALPINE KNOLL & ALPINE RIDGE (Orange Reedbuck Prints)

This trail is becoming very popular as it offers amazing viewpoints. Follow the same starting points as the Yellowwood Trail above but once you get to the dirt road split, continue up the dirt road on the left. Carry on walking on the dirt road until you get to a gate. The trail starts a metre past the gate on your left hand side. The trail continues along the side of the ridge, through a gorge and up along the fence line. There is a steep climb up to the tree. Once on top of the Knoll, there is a perfect view of the Amphitheatre. This is one of the most scenic areas of the Drakensberg. After a nice rest, you need to climb through the fence on your left hand side. You will find the orange prints leading straight down the knoll towards the grey electricity box and back into the access road. Take it slow down the trail and once on the road, continue back towards the Village Square. ±1.3 km's.

RIVER MEANDER (Red Baboon Print)

Although this trail is going through a rehabilitation period, it is still a nice walk. The trail starts at Chalet 22 (same as Cascades), however before the decline down to the river, take the path to the right. The trail continues through the grasslands in front of the chalets. This stretch is great for birding as it continues towards the river. Once you get to the T-junction, turn left towards the river and you'll come to another split in the path. The River Meander continues on the path to the right which runs parallel with the river. The many trout dams can be seen on this walk and is a birding paradise. This isn't a round trip, so you will have to return on the same path. ±1.3 kms.
